Focusing mainly on Fortnite but also have a passion for shooters, including First Person Shooters (FPS) and community based games is a passion of mine. I love trying and testing new games and products, playing a range of genres from mobile games to horror games from time-to-time. My content is a mixture dependent on the platform, however my core focus is gaming, personality and lifestyle.

BRANDS I'M WORKING WITH NOW

In January 2023 I became a content creator for FNATIC, the number one esports organisation in the UK. During my time with FNATIC I've delivered successful brand campaigns for their partners whilst delivering on agreed KPI's for streaming & content including watch hours, impressions, engagement and more.

I've been a partner with Gamer Advantage for around 3 years and love their products. I recently completed their first UK brand activation which involved a photo shoot, brand exposure, social media & more. During my time with Gamer Advantage I've assisted with the support of product sales and overall supporting them as a brand ambassador.

I worked with Raven GG on a clothing activation introducing a new fully customisable Stallion branded jersey. The day consisted of a photoshoot and a content based interview to introduce the new Stallion Jersey which was launched on YouTube and promoted across social channels.

Stallion has demonstrated exceptional skill and expertise in deploying performance and brand awareness campaigns through StreamElements. His strategic approach, execution and seamless integration of promotional elements within his streams showcases his professionalism and understanding of engaging content delivery.
